

Kearny County Hospital

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Website Privacy and Disclaimer

As a user of Kearny County Hospital and its affiliated Family Health Centers, including the Lakin and Deerfield locations, and Ear Nose and Throat Clinic (collectively “KCH”) website, the patient takes on certain responsibilities. By using this site, you agree to the following terms of use.

This website is designed for general patient education and assistance and does not constitute professional medical advice or services nor is it intended to create a health care provider-patient relationship. You must always consult with a professional for diagnosis and treatment for specific health problems. If you are having any emergency, call Emergency Medical Services (911) immediately.

KCH owns the information on this website. You may look at the website, download information to read later, or print copies of information for yourself or your family and friends. However, you cannot remove any copyright that is printed on the materials, sell KCH information, rewrite or modify it, redistribute it for use on your own website, or use it for any other commercial purpose without the prior written permission of KCH.

This website may include links to third party Internet service providers. These links are provided as a convenience to you and not as an endorsement of the content on any such links. KCH disclaims any liability for any of the content on such links.

KCH will strive to maintain your privacy and security at all times. It will not sell or share any information you provide, nor will it intentionally use your data without your permission unless for purposes of maintaining this website. The KCH website operates on a secure server and all personal information entered into the site is encrypted before it is transmitted. KCH does not collect or use personal information for any purpose other than the purposes indicated on the website. If KCH wishes to use your information for a different purpose, we will request your consent before using this information. Although KCH makes every possible effort to protect personal information and health-related information from loss, misuse or alteration by third parties, you should be aware there is always some risk involved in transmitting information via the Internet, and that hackers and thieves do find ways to thwart security systems.

KCH disclaims any liability for any information, documentation, or materials on the website and does not guarantee that it will not be offensive or unhelpful to any user. You are hereby put on notice that the materials on this website may be offensive or not meet your specific needs.